

Into Eternity

Growing in a Relationship With God

The eschatological journey from the struggles of a fallen world to the glorious hope of the New Jerusalem.

The Core Tension: Living Between Two Realms

The Present Reality

The world is heaving and groaning.

Wars, famines, earthquakes, and intensifying persecution (Matt. 24:6–11).

Life is brief. It is even a vapor that appears for a little time and then vanishes away (James 4:13–14).

The Eternal Hope

Beloved, now we are children of God (1 John 3:2).

God has placed eternity in our hearts (Eccl. 3:11).

Jesus is faithful; His promises of salvation and presence are true, regardless of our earthly timeline.

The Mechanics of Spiritual Renewal

Preparing for eternity requires both a reawakening of the spirit and a rebuilding of character.

Revival

Definition: A reawakening of spiritual life.

The Mechanism: The renewal of God's grace created by the Holy Spirit.

The Catalyst: Driven by prayer and a deep hunger for the Word (e.g., Psalm 80: Cause Your face to shine).

Restoration

Definition: The rebuilding of character.

The Mechanism: God actively transforming our hearts to reflect the character of Jesus.

The Goal: Preparing believers to live comfortably in the pure, heavenly currents of the Holy City.

The 7 Keys for the End Times

The Anatomy of the Return

Step 1: The Cloud Appears.

A small black cloud appears in the eastern sky, growing closer and brighter.

Step 2: The King Descends.

On the cloud sits the Son of Man with a golden crown and a sharp sickle (Rev. 14:14), accompanied by thousands of angels.

Step 3: The Call.

A shout and the trumpet call of God echo across the earth.

Step 4: The Resurrection.

The tombs of those who fell asleep in Christ open; they rise first, recognizing His voice (1 Thess. 4:16).

Step 5: The Transformation.

The living are transformed in the twinkling of an eye, granting immortality.

The Ultimate Promise: Finally, Face-to-Face

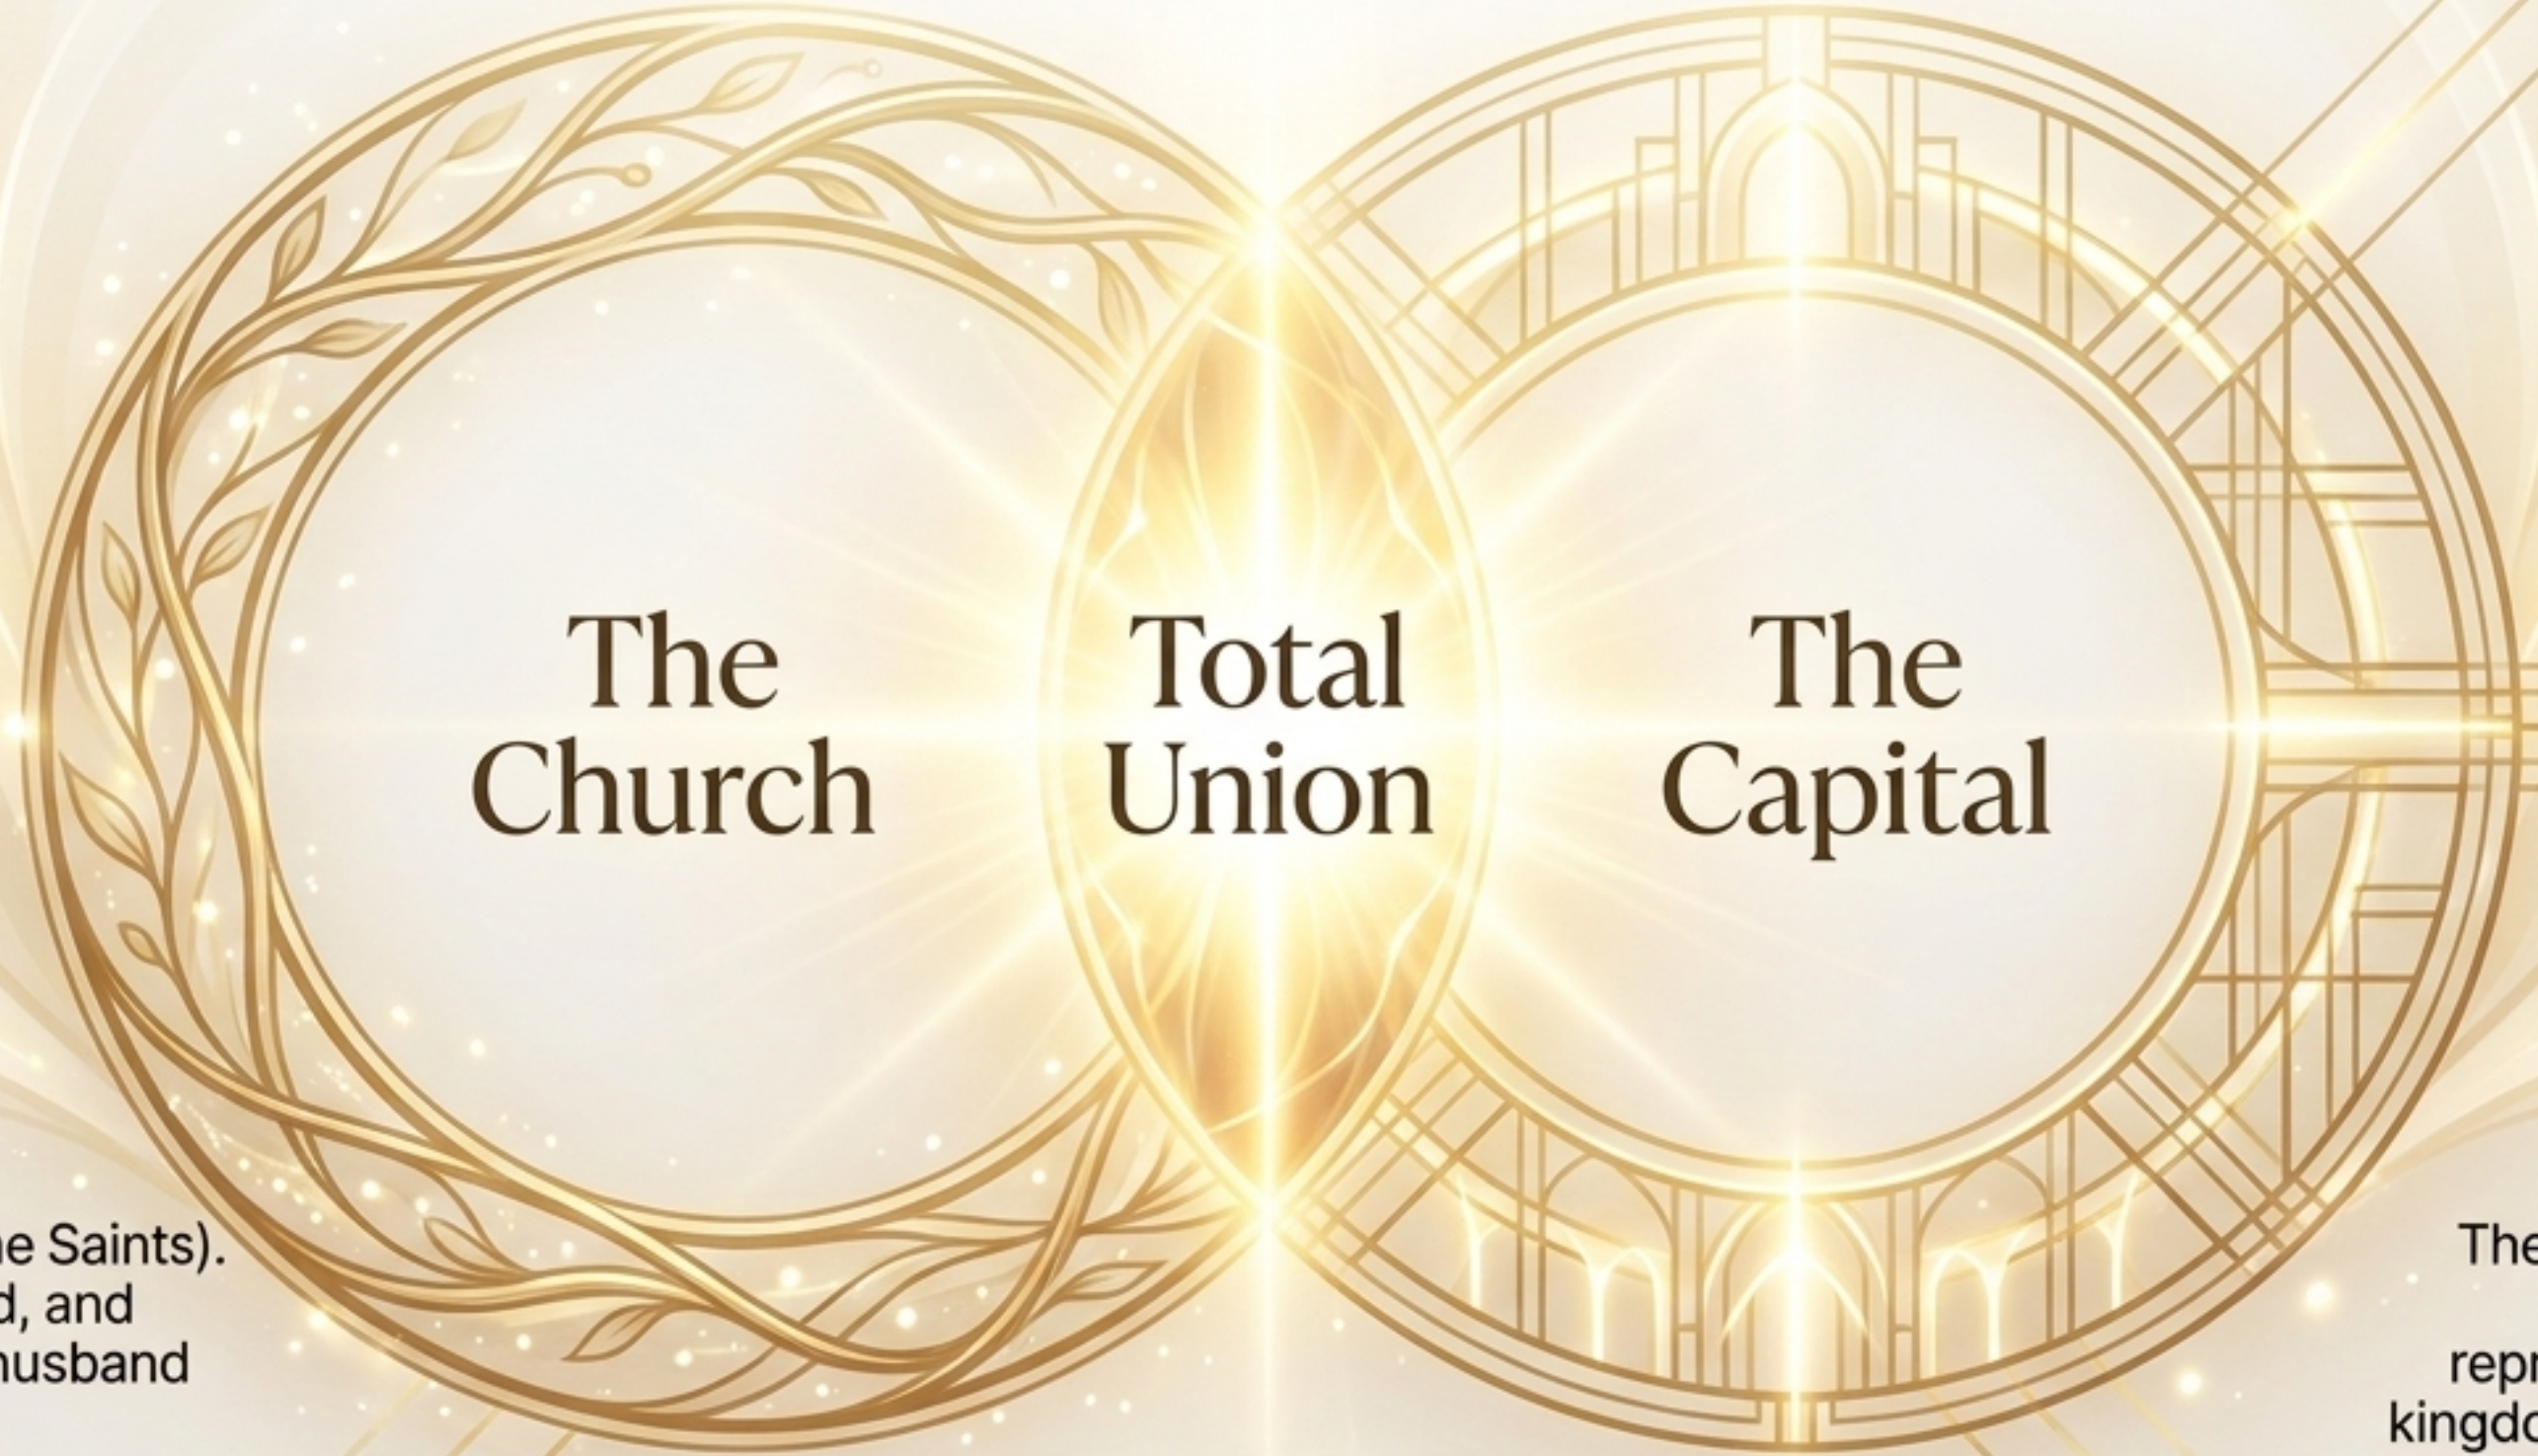

The Defining Mark: His name shall be on their foreheads (Rev. 22:4)—meaning we will always be thinking of Him.

We shall see Him as He is.
(1 John 3:2)

The End of the Wait:
Every persevering prayer, trial, and prioritized moment culminates in seeing His face.

The Great Confession:
We will hear His voice and confess that He is Lord (Phil. 2:10-11).

Decoding the Metaphor: The Bride of Christ

The Church

Total Union

The Capital

God's People (The Saints).
Prepared, revived, and
adorned for her husband
(Rev. 19:7).

The New Jerusalem.
The capital and
representative of the kingdom, coming down
out of heaven (Rev. 21:2).

Why share the title?

The beautiful description signifies the intimate, inseparable connection between God's people and the city they inhabit.
Jesus unites His people to Himself within this glorious gift.

The Architecture of Restoration

The New Jerusalem is not a human achievement, but a glorious, incomprehensible gift from God that restores the broken fellowship of Eden.

The 12 Gates:

Represent God's desire to invite all people—regardless of past failures—into His presence.

The Absence of Sorrow:

There shall be no more death, nor sorrow, nor crying (Rev. 21:4).

The Living Fountains:

The provision of eternal sustenance and the pure, heavenly current of grace.

If we want to follow Him in heaven, we must first follow Him here on earth.

The Present Walk

The Lamb of God:

Following Jesus through the trials, suffering, and heaving of a fallen world.

The Action:

Learning to know His voice through His Word today so we recognize it when He calls.

The Eternal Walk

The Eternal Shepherd:

For the Lamb who is in the midst of the throne will shepherd them and lead them to living fountains of waters (Rev. 7:17).

The Action:

A joyous, unending exploration of heaven, guided forever by the One who saved us.

Living the Hope: Amelia's Mission

Stage 1: Despair.

Struggling with mental health and deep pain, Amelia could not envision a future.

Stage 2: Surrender.

Claiming Psalm 37:5, she prayed: I will work for you, Lord, if You help me out of this problem.

Stage 3: Mission.

She became a Global Mission pioneer, teaching and leading worship in a remote mountain village.

Stage 4: Perseverance.

Faced with severe opposition and disruption from a village leader using witchcraft, she knelt at the altar for strength.

Enduring the hostility, she remained faithful to her promise.

The Universal Invitation: Come!

And the Spirit and the bride say, Come! And let him who hears say, Come! And let him who thirsts come. Whoever desires, let him take the water of life freely. (Rev. 22:17)

The Source:

The Holy Spirit draws us.
Jesus promises, Who comes to Me
I will by no means cast out.

The Church:

The Bride extends the call to the world.

The Spirit:

The Spirit'd either
come snorts with to an entelasinthing.

The Individual:

Believers are tasked with urgently working with the Spirit to invite others into a saving relationship.

The Source:

The Holy Spirit draws us. Jesus
promises, Who comes to Me
I will by no means cast out.

The Cost:

The invitation is entirely free,
offered as a gift of grace.

Synthesis: The Arc of Eternity

The Great Controversy

Eden Lost

We were made to be close to God (Gen. 2:7), but sin shattered our face-to-face fellowship.

God has moved throughout history—culminating in the cross—giving everything to restore that broken relationship.

Eden Restored

The New Jerusalem. The fellowship is fully restored. No more pain, no more death. We are brought back to the Tree of Life.

Takeaway: God initiated the relationship He has with you, and He will complete it (Phil. 1:6).

The Final Promise

“Surely I am coming quickly.”

Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus. (Revelation 22:20)

From the perspective of eternity, the wait is incredibly brief. Do not grow weary.
Keep this desire alive, ever before you, in faith and in trust in the love and goodness of God.
